

Fairytales Writing Activity

In literacy we have written stories based on Little Red Riding Hood. Write your own fairytale and think about the things below:

- Plan your story including an opening, build-up, problem, resolution and ending.
- Decide on your characters and settings and create word and phrase banks to describe them
- Think about how to make your story effective (sentence openers, descriptive vocabulary and 'show not tell')
- When you are ready, write your story! Don't forget to give it an effective title.
- When you have finished your story, edit and improve it, seeing if you can 'up-level' any of the vocabulary.
- If you have time, publish your story and include illustrations.
